Georgia Matters.

The Middle Georgian announces the death of little Alice, daughter of Judge Speer.

The Georgia Clipper says that recent rains have somewhat brightened cotton prospects in Warren county.

The Savannah Republican gives an account of the arrest of a notorious burglar, "Bill Grant" and his accomplices in crime.

The Rome Commercial says that the gentlemen who came through the country from Columbus to Rome in the interest of the Railroad, informed them that the crops along the line, till within a few miles of Rome, were very fine.

From the Georgia Enterprise we learn that on the 16th, in the absence of the family, the residence of Elder W. D. Allmand, near Conyers, was entered and robbed of nearly $1,000 in money and other valuables. No clue to the robbers.

The Griffin Star reports that city as being gay and lively. Business dull. Colonel Doyal improving from a paralytic stroke. Colonel Alexander, of the Star, confined to his room sick. At the meeting of the firemen of Griffin, the Chief Assistants and the Presidents of the two companies were appointed to attend the Firemen's Convention.

The Herald says that Mrs. Torbert, wife of B. F. Torbert, died in Greensboro on the 14th. The Herald says that Rev. Mr. Hendee of the above place, has been elected Vice-President of the Presbyterian Female College, in Louisville, Ky., and accepts the position. Rains have been general throughout Green for the last week; and have been of great benefit to the planting interest.

From the Chronicle and Sentinel we learn that Augusta is to have another band—the "Good Templar Cornet Band." The same paper states that the contract of the Augusta and Hartwell Railroad has been ratified by the directors. The road is to be built in two years. Ten miles to be finished in sixty days. The work to be commenced immediately. Charles Seymour elected chief engineer.

From the Covington Examiner, it seems that blood letting between colored people is a favorite amusement at church meetings. The same paper says that there is considerable sickness, mostly billious and intermittent fevers in Newton county. Mrs. Meeker proposes to lecture to the citizens of Covington on the subject of matrimony. The Examiner says that the Agricultural exhibition on Saturday, was a decided success.

The Seaport Appeal reports that it fears the rains with which that section of country is now visited, will be of serious disservice to cotton crops. Two new engines have been received at Brunswick for the Brunswick and Albany Railroad. Dr. W. Watkins Hicks delivered his lecture on "Moral Greatness" in Brunswick the evening of the 17th. Brunswick wants a laundry. The local of the Appeal boasts of the beauty of the ladies of Brunswick. No doubt they merit his encomiums.

The Marietta Journal is informed by the farmers of Paulding county that about half a crop of corn and cotton will be made. Evening musical concerts in the Park by the Cornet Band delight the citizens of Marietta. A fair crop of corn will be made in Cobb, more having been planted than last year. Dr. A. Connel, of Houston, formerly of Marietta, is dead. The above paper also states that Marietta is rapidly advancing toward the dimensions of a city. The Journal also contains an interesting account of the 25th anniversary of the Marietta Bible Society.

The North Georgia Citizen says that Ringgold presents signs of thrift and improvement. Arrangements have been perfected for the erection of extensive iron works two and a half miles South of the place, on the Western and Atlantic Railroad. The same paper states that much interest is being manifested in religious meetings in Dalton. Quite a number of business houses and fine residences are springing up in Chattanooga. The Citizen says that Chattanooga is to have a four-story hotel—a second edition of the Kimball House.

The Calhoun Times says that an interesting protracted meeting is being carried on in that place under the auspices of the Baptist denomination. The same paper states that Hon. John P. King, of Augusta, has donated a lot in the town of Calhoun, and a considerable amount of money, for the purpose of building an Episcopal Church. Twenty-seven thousand two hundred and three bushels of corn from the 1st of January to the 15th day of August have been shipped from the Calhoun depot—three thousand five hundred and sixty bushels of wheat during the same time. The same paper above mentioned says that the building of the North Georgia and North Carolina Railroad is in a fair way of absolute certainty. Some recent rains have done good, but the corn crop of Gordon county will be a short one.

A Card.

Editor Constitution: In your issue of this morning appears a statement that the colored man, Hamp Whitehead, who died on Wednesday last, was at work for Grant, Alexander & Co. This is a mistake. The man alluded to belonged to the Fulton County Chain Gang, and was in the employment of Alexander & Broomhead, who are the contractors for building the Fulton County Jail. We have no interest in the Fulton County Chain Gang or in the contract for building the jail, either directly or indirectly.

Papers that have published the article alluded to will please do us the justice to publish this also. GRANT, ALEXANDER & CO.

The Thomasville Railroad.

The colored people of this county are manifesting a strong and commendable interest in the proposed railroad from this city to Thomasville. On Saturday last a large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the Court House, which was addressed in good style by 'Squire Toer, Hon John Wallace, Hon. John Wyatt and Andrew DeCourcey. The speeches were well received and great interest evinced. In accordance with a resolution offered by W. H. Ford, all present pledged themselves to do all in their power to further the building of a railroad from this point to Thomasville, Ga.

'Squire Toer has been elected a Director of the Tallahassee and Georgia Railroad and Steam Transportation Company, and aided by other prominent colored men, who are enlisted in the work, will doubtless be able to accomplish a good deal among this class of our citizens in aid of the enterprise.—Weekly Floridian.

Young Bennett, of the N. Y. Herald.

Two or three years ago a Western journalist waited upon the senior Bennett and said that he came on behalf of himself and certain capitalists to see if the Herald could be purchased, and he was authorized to offer a round sum for it, passing up in the digits of millions.

Mr. Bennett, after some conversation, replied that, at his age, he would have accepted the offer, except for his son.

"My son," he said, "is the best editor in America to-day."

This opinion is general at the Herald office among the employees. The Bennett of the second generation is an American, liberally educated, socially esteemed, courageous, and with all his father's instincts for news. The behaviour of the paper during the recent riots in New York was admirable. It is now in the exclusive management of the son; its editorial tone is national and cheerful; it is purged of old personalities and eschews the fraternal bickerings which used to mark all the New York dailies. Old complaints against it no longer apply. The Herald is another instance of the redeeming power of energy and enterprise to reform their own excesses, and of the impossibility of any thing being planted in America that must not feel the humanizing, christianizing influence of popular sentiment. Whatever is too useful to perish from among us must be elevated.—Geo. Alfred Townsend's Letter.

BY TELEGRAPH.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 18.—Dispatches from New York proves the reported loss of the Chauncey to be a canard.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 18.—Two of the escaped convicts were captured in a swamp, and pursuit of the balance continued.

The rumer that the steamer Henry Chauncey was burnt on the 16th off Body Island, is undoubtedly false.

VIRGINIA.

NORFOLK, August 18.—Mr. J. H. Walker, Vice-President of the Sun Mutual Insurance Company, New York—SIR: I hasten to inform you of the loss of the Pacific mail steamer, Henry Chauncey. The ship was discovered to be on fire off Body Island, and immediately headed for the land. Every effort was made to smother the flames, but the fire continued to burn with fearful rapidity until the ship struck the beach, the passengers narrowly escaping with their lives. The steamer Resolute has been dispatched to the scene of disaster. Very respectfully, [Signed.] JAMES BROWN, Agent.

KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, August 18.—The protracted drought in some sections is injuring the corn and tobacco crop.

A little daughter of Thomas Burnett Ewing, aged ten years, living near Fulton Station, on the Paducah and Grand Gulf Railroad, was choked and outraged with the aid of a knife, and then thrown into a pond. A negro confessed to the deed, and was about being lynched at last accounts.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 18.—The Cloverdale coach, in Sonora county, was attacked by five robbers. The coach contained ten men and four women. In the fight one passenger was killed, one fatally hurt, and one woman died. The robbers escaped without the booty.

The Montana took $72,000 worth of California wine for New York.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, August 18.—The cholera has appeared in the neighborhood of Stettin. The disease continues its ravages at Konisberg. On Tuesday there were 70 new cases and 34 deaths, and on Wednesday 80 new cases and 27 deaths.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, August 18.—At a banquet given to the French deputation last night the Lord Mayor proposed, "The Queen," which was received with a storm of hisses which lasted for several minutes.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, August 18.—Prince Gortschakoff publishes a report of what passed between his and the evangelical deputation at Fredericksaffer, in July: He says, having heard them, he replied that their mission had appearances of interference in the domestic affairs of Russia; that he could permit no foreign intervention whatever, and that the Russian Government could not tolerate even the shadow of intervention from any source whatever.

The missionaries expressed their respectful regret. He accepted the address of the American delegation to hand to the Emperor. The address to the Emperor of the Swiss delegation, which was written in London, he decidedly refused to accept. He then explained that it might seem invidious to only accept the address of the American delegation, and requested them to withdraw it, which they did.

The House of Commons, by a majority of 52, sustained the course of the Government in preventing the Phœnix Park, Dublin, meeting.

The great Lamb's Wool Spinning Factory at Leicester, is burned. Several lives were lost by the falling walls.

An unknown yacht was capsized, and six persons were drowned.

Curiosities of Sheep-Farming in California.

The great sheep runs of California, like those of Australia, seems to be a kind of mild form of Botany Bay for their respective mother countries. Old shepherds of long experiences in either country will tell you of scores of men with colleges and even university educations, whom themselves or their friends have banished "for their country's good," and who are now gathering their melancholy crops of wild oats at the same time they watch the flocks on the hills nibble theirs. Rufus A. Lockwood, one of the greatest and most erratic geniuses ever seen in California, and whose biography has been written by Hon. Newton Booth, Republican candidate for Governor, once herded sheep in Australia, and that, too, after he had become known as one of the most brilliant lawyers of San Francisco.

Mr. Carr's overseer told me that during a single year he had employed a bishop's son, an editor, a banker, a civil engineer, a priest, and a book-keeper as shepherds. Every summer day there are several hot hours when the restless sheep are compelled, for once, to be still, when the shepherd lolls at his ease beneath a tree; and you shall not unfrequently see him reading some magazine, or, like Alexander the Great, who always carried around a piece of good literature with him, or, perusing poems of his own composition clipped from the village paper.

The shepherds of California, as a class, are probably the most worthless, morally and socially, the most unprincipled, reckless and collapsed company of vagabonds to be found in any civilized country, unless it be Australia. They are the riffraff of the world; vagrant miners who gamble away their month's wages as soon as drawn—runaway sailors from ships in San Francisco, who sell their blankets for a pillow-case full of biscuits, and then get never a pinch of grub for two days, measly old grogy soldiers, who fall asleep under a live-oak, and let the coyotes pull away a lamb.

The good old Bible word "shepherd" is not heard in California, it is either "wool-grower," "ranchero," or most cumbrous and absurd "sheep-raisers," and, for the man who does the work, he is a "sheep-herder." And when he goes so low down as to be a "sheep-herder" in California, he had better go and dig a hole in the ground, insert his head therein, and ask some pittying friend to cover it up. He is lower than a Greaser, for this is the Greaser's natural business that he was born to, and he is therefore respectable. Greasers and vagabond sailors together have brought contempt on sheep-herding.—San Francisco Correspondence.

The Cotton Crop in Alabama and Mississippi.

Accounts from the interior are spotted, but all agree that rain is wanted, and in some sections the crops are suffering from the drought. In North Mississippi the crops are said to be in good condition, while in the canebrake and prairie country, the prospects are reported bad. Along the line of the Alabama River the drought is said to be particularly severe, and in some localities immediate rains are needed to save the crops from ruin. While on this subject we beg leave to call attention to the fact that the public is allowing itself to be drawn into the other extreme regarding the condition of the crops. There has been an improvement since June, no one can doubt, but it must be remembered that without this charge the crops in this section would have been a total failure. So far but little or no fruit has been made, and we consider the crop in its most critical condition, one in which it will require the most favorable seasons for development. [Mobile Register.

BRIGNOLI, MRS. BRIGNOLI AND THE TWINS. It is whispered in social circles at "the Hub" that Brignoli—who was privately married to Miss McCulloch, in Montreal, last July—has made an attempt to ignore his marriage or deny it; but he "reckoned without his host," or hostess, rather, for Mrs. Brignoli proved equal to the situation, and so very plainly demonstrated to her other half the impossibility of a separation from her and twins, that after a few frantic efforts he subsided, and learning a lesson from the past, will in future keep in the usual tenor of his way. [Washington Star.

A Chapter on Kissing.

The following is clipped from a Kentucky paper: "When a lark attempts to steal a kiss from a Kentucky girl, she says, come, sheer off, or I'll split your mainsail with a typhoon." The Boston girls hold still until they are well kissed, when they flare up and say, "I think you ought to be ashamed." When a young chap steals a kiss from an Alabama girl, she says, "I reckon it's my time now," and she gives him a box on the ear that he don't forget in a week. When a clever fellow steals a kiss from a Louisiana girl, she smiles, blushes deeply and says nothing.

When a man is smart enough to steal this divine luxury from them, they are perfectly satisfied. In Lynn, Massachusetts, when a female is saluted with a buss, she puts on her bonnet and shawl and answereth thus: "I am astonished at thy assurance, Jedediah; for this indignity I will sew thee up." New York ladies receive a salute with christian meekness; they follow the christian rule—when smitten on the one cheek they turn the other also. And when a Barry girl gets kissed she very calmly remarks, "Hans, dat ish good."

☞ The sickness of the President's colt, about whose sore tail the whole office-holding world was so greatly exercised, was due, we learn, to the circumscribed quarters devoted to the Presidential stable. To guard against such misfortunes in future, General Grant is erecting a new palatial structure, adjoining the State Department on Seventeenth street, for the royal stud. This edifice is to be sixty by eighty feet, and three stories high. It is to be built of pressed brick with brown stone trimmings, while the interior will be of hard wood, oiled, and finished in imperial style. The basement floor is destined for the Presidential dairy stock, the first floor for fifteen horses and equipages to match, and the upper stories for provender and residences for the liveried servants. The cost of this imposing stable will be defrayed, not from the Presidential privy purse, but from the appropriation for the erection of the new State Department. Boss Tweed must look to his laurels.—New York Sun.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE COUNTY.

THE LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION.

DEFIES REFUTATION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.

I. W. AVERY, Editor.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1871.

Subscribe to The Constitution.

Parties spending a part or the entire season at the various springs, or other summer resorts through the country, can have THE CONSTITUTION sent to them by addressing a line to this office.

A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

Professor Waddell,

THE CONSTITUTION Office has had several pleasant visits from the above intelligent and agreeable gentleman, whose name heads this article, and who is a Professor in the University of the State, and an author of considerable reputation.

Professor W. and his accomplished lady will spend several weeks in the city.

Our Circulation.

We are glad to announce to the many friends of THE CONSTITUTION that new subscribers are reaching us at the rate of fifty or sixty a week. This is the dull season, and we have made no special or unusual effort to extend our subscription list. We have no doubt, judging from the present rate of increase, that we shall soon have a weekly average of more than one hundred new subscribers. For the increasing interest manifested by our friends and for recent marks of favor, we return our warmest thanks.

The New Era and Its New Departure.

We re-publish this morning our editorial of yesterday on this subject, because the article in the Era was inadvertently printed as not to do it full justice, and also, that it may be well-considered. Various was the comment yesterday elicited by the Era's recent course culminating in the article re-published. Many think that there is no shadow of doubt as to our position that the Era's course is significant of, or rather is paving the way for, the sliding of Bullock and his wing into the Democratic party, while others think that it is simply a sharp game to create dissension among its political foes. But, if this be so, the game is exploded, for the threatened division of the Democratic party is growing more and more improbable, better feeling is returning and the press are discarding discussion, so utterly useless where there is so little real difference of sentiment.

It was interesting to note the conflicting opinions upon the subject of the Era's entrance into the Democratic party together with the Bullock wing. Some thought it would be well to encourage them, while others earnestly contended that the Democratic party should utterly refuse to recognize them and repudiate all political association. But we must candidly remonstrate against this position. The true policy is to receive all, who honestly renounce the Radical party. We are opposed to a proscriptive spirit, and believe that the general voice of the party will favor this view, provided converts will modestly keep in the back ground, as we have no doubt that Bullock, the New Era and their friends will undoubtedly do.

SUMMING UP RESULTS.

The Present Investigation of State Road Cases, and the Prospect.

The people of Atlanta have been exercised the present week by a succession of sensations, that have created no little excitement. A homicide attempted and another charged, arrests of State Road officers and citizens, absconding of parties, together with the stir in political circles over the indications of a change of base by the Radical organ, have contributed to render this week quite a lively one. But everything else was comparatively forgotten, and all interest was concentrated upon the exposures being made of the Radical administration of the State Road. A short review will be instructive, for present occurrences are destined to have a marked relation both with

PAST AND FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS.

For two years the people of Georgia have struggled hopelessly against a Radical incubus that oppressed them sorely and crushed their energies. The finances of the State were being handled, mismanaged and misappropriated by unscrupulous Radical office-holders and their corrupt rings, but the people could only groan beneath their burdens. THE CONSTITUTION and the press of the State assaulted, denounced and exposed. For two years this has been their unceasing work. But to what did exposure amount, when the whole State government was in the hands of the Radicals, with whom honesty is only the exception and not the rule.

Governor Bullock's unwarrantable and reckless manipulation of the

has been continuously set forth in THE CONSTITUTION for a year or more past. The lavish and outrageous expenditure of the people's money by hundreds of thousands, where former Governors spent only a few thousand, the enormous waste upon the New Era, the criminal use of the pardoning power, as shown by figures which we took from the records and have made the circuit of the Union, and the damning exposures about two months since, showing where $8,500 of the people's money went in a single case, and how six millions were expended in two years; all this the press have been thundering. But with all power in Radical possession, it was feared that rascalities could be so covered up that the evidences of guilt would never be discovered. But the prospect brightens.

The existence of

for plundering the revenues of the State Road, a fact all along believed, has been clearly demonstrated. These rings were composed both of office-holders and citizens, but the names of only a few have yet been ascertained.

The recent investigations have also clearly developed perhaps the leading modus operandi, by which the State Road Treasury has been depleted. It is known, we believe, as

LOADING A BILL.

That is, where goods have been purchased, the bill for the same has been increased fifty or one hundred per cent., and when paid the overplus was divided among the ring. In this way the books and accounts would appear entirely regular upon their face. Another mode was by accounts altogether fraudulent, and still another by two payments for the same bill. Thus thousands of dollars were stolen, and doubtless at least of dollars went in these various ways, for beyond all question the profits of the Western and Atlantic Railroad for the years 1869 and 1870 amounted to that much. It will be remembered that we gave a few months since the following as the enormous aggregate of the expenditures, namely:

A HALF MILLION

For 1869........$2,4..,... ..

For 1870........$3,...,... ..

This shows an increase of expenditure in 1870 of more than $600,000, and this is probably about the amount of the people's money that has found its way

INTO PRIVATE POCKETS.

This explains how palatial mansions have been built, and men without incomes have suddenly become rich and dash about in splendid equipages. When the Legislature meets, and appoints its investigating committees, with the facts now before us, the whole truth will probably be ferreted out. And a glorious day for Georgia it will be, when the plunderers will be exposed in their naked iniquity to the scorn and condemnation of the people they have robbed. We have suffered, but the day of tribulation is rapidly passing and the dawn breaks of the millenial morn, when corruption shall disappear and the last vestiges of the Radicalism, which has cursed, and plundered and oppressed the Empire State of the South, shall linger only in the stenches arising from its grave.

The True Platform.

The following platform of principles adopted by the Texas Democracy we published some time since, remarking that it utterly discarded the discussions and wranglings calculated to divide and destroy the party, not even alluding to them, and adhering firmly to the time-honored principles of the National Democracy, it expresses the most unshaken confidence in its future, and pledges it a hearty support. We, therefore, republish the resolutions, and will keep them standing for a time, as they are platform enough for THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, and one upon which true men of the whole Union can stand together.

WHEREAS, It becomes necessary from time to time for the friends of constitutional government to reassert their devotion to it, and to proclaim the principles upon which it should be administered; and when its enemies obtain power, to expose the usurpation to the end that the whole people may be aroused to action to protect their rights at the ballot-box; therefore,

Be it resolved, 1. That the Democracy of Texas have an abiding confidence in the devotion of the National Democratic party to correct principles of government; and we pledge ourselves to co-operate with it as an integral part thereof, in its future efforts to restore the government in its administration to the principles on which it was founded.

2. That we rely upon the honesty and capacity of the people for self-government.

3. That the Constitution, as formed by the free voice of the States, is the foundation of the power of the government.

4. That the powers of the General Government are restricted to the express grants of the Constitution, and all powers not granted are reserved to the States and the people thereof.

5. The regulating of suffrage and elections belongs to the respective States; and any interference by the General Government, with intent to control either, is a gross usurpation of power, and the use of the military at elections to overawe the people, and prevent a fair and full expression of their political sentiments, is utterly subversive to free government, and should be resisted by all proper means, until the evil is abolished, and an honest, untrammelled ballot restored.

6. The abolition of slavery, as a result of the war, is accepted as a fixed fact, and it becomes our duty, by State legislation, to provide for the security and well-being of all classes of men, native and foreign born, white or black.

7. The immigration of the white races from all quarters of the world should be encouraged; and there should be no unreasonable impediments or delay to naturalization and citizenship, the Democratic party having been uniformly in favor of a liberal policy toward all persons of foreign birth, who in good faith seek a home among us.

8. That we will yield obedience to the Constitution and laws.

THE RADICAL STAMPEDE.

The Signs of the Times—The Radical Organ in Atlanta Preparing to Join the Democratic Party.

We are on the eve of interesting events in the political world. The statement has circulated generally through the press that the Radical party in Georgia is almost extinct. There had been for some time a wide-spread impression that Gov. Bullock and other high Radicals were exceedingly anxious to desert the Radical ship, when the Governor's letter to Scott appeared, greatly strengthening the opinion. The course of the New Era, the Radical sheet in this city, has undergone such a decided change of tone in the past few months that it has been, comparatively with its past course, not much Republican, save in name. We thought, however, that this was only a part of a shrewd, sharp political game. The only hope of Radicalism in this State depended upon one of two contingencies, namely, the seduction of old Whigs into the Republican ranks by flattery and the exciting of their prejudices against the Democracy; and secondly, in dividing the Democratic party. The first effort was an ignominious failure; but the second, we regret to say, has not been entirely fruitless. Well knowing that national Democratic victory in 1872 could only be averted by defeating the Northern Democracy through the assaults of the Southern people, as falsely claimed by the Northern Radicals, upon the government and the constitution, and knowing further that the Southern people were disposed to avoid political discussions and support the national Democratic party, upon whose success alone depended their rights in the Union, the Era determined to assist with all its might those who manifested a disposition to discuss platforms and dictate them to the Northern Democracy. Of course, this was the very thing the Era wanted in order to excite the war prejudices of the Northern people, and it bent all its energies to widen an apparent breach in the Democratic party in Georgia. The wrangling over the "New Departure" furnished the opportunity, and aware that nothing would drive off a Democrat from the support of anything so readily as to prove it acceptable to a Radical, it has devoted every issue for a month past to proving that the "New Departure" and Radicalism were identical. To our chagrin all the extreme Democratic press slipped their heads right into the trap, and have been busily advertising the Radical sheet. We confess that the thing galled us, when we imagined the chuckle of the Radical concern over its success. The purpose was so transparent that we hoped no one would be deceived. But the hope was vain, and the Era with all the ability and cunning freely accorded to it, plied its game, furnishing Democratic presses with arguments to hurl at Democrats.

All this we supposed. But we are now in doubt. The Era may have been sincere after all, in this instance. We cannot construe the article below in any other light than a preparatory step to the Era's somersault into the Democratic ranks. Consider the impression about Bullock, his recent letter, the changed course of the Era, and the general belief that a Radical daily cannot live in Atlanta after the loss of official patronage; put all these "straws" together, and then read the article that follows, and we ask any candid man, if it is not the plainest indication yet given of a wholesale exodus from the Radical party, led by Bullock and the Era. If this be true, the Era, in trying to prove the platforms of the two parties virtually identical, is simply manufacturing an excuse for acting with the Democratic party. Read the article—the italics are ours:

HAVE THE OLD PARTIES EXPIRED BY LIMITATION?

The question is frequently asked, Has the Republican party accomplished its mission? And if it has, then why not disband and enter new combinations, on new and living issues? The question is not altogether irrelevant. The leading doctrines of the party, as well as its line of policy for six years past, are embodied in articles 14 and 15 of the Federal Constitution, and in the Reconstruction Acts of Congress. These measures embrace all that is vital to the Republican platform. If, therefore, they, are to be accepted as finalities by the only party in the United States that ever opposed them, then it is quite true that the Republican party has accomplished its mission. Like the Anti-Slavery party in New England, its work is done and its members may now disband and act in concert with all persons thus agreeing, outside of mere party drill, and independent of past party differences.

And the same is just as true of the Democratic party, with this difference, that whereas, the Republican principles and policy have been incorporated in the organic law of the nation, those of the Democratic or Opposition party have been forever renounced and abandoned for the acceptance of the principles thus successfully championed by the Republicans. Since both parties, therefore, occupy essentially the same position, in thus uniting upon the amendments as legitimate and valid parts of the Constitution, both have no further mission to accomplish. The issues that divided them are dead. The life of the one is clearly contingent upon the renewed opposition of the other; but when both unite upon essentially the same platform of principles, and acquiesce in the same line of policy, then it is clear that party discipline has lost its uses, and voters thenceforth are free to cast their ballots for candidates wholly regardless of party dictum. In such case, the only issue can be as regards the personal fitness of candidates, and this everybody knows, is not an issue broad enough to sustain a national political party.

Assuming, therefore, that the principles of the "New Departure" will be ultimately embraced by the Democracy of the Union, members of either party will be at perfect liberty to choose between candidates for office without in any way proving false to party fealty.—New Era.

Total tax on professions, $125 00.

The colored population is taxed on property valued at $2,310 00, as follows: Land in Buttrell's district, 150 acres, valued at $450 00; personal property—Buttrell's, $850 00; Iron Spring, $300 00; Dublin, $710 00. From this it will be seen that the amount of tax paid by the colored race, to defray county, school and other expense, is so small a fraction as to be scarcely worth including in the estimate.

Be United.

We are gratified to see that the press of the South are awaking to the fact that a divided Democracy in the South will inevitably lead to defeat in the next Presidential canvass. To succeed, the Democracy must not only be united, but must so act as to obtain the assistance of some in the Northern States who voted for Grant in the last election. There were thousands of votes cast for him not because the voters liked the man or the party of which he was the candidate, but because they believed, either from Radical misrepresentation or Democratic indiscretions, that if Seymour and Blair were elected, the government would be immediately placed under the control of so-called rebel influences. The Northern mind was not prepared for that result. Nor is it now. If heated partisans of either side succeed in begetting the impression that such is to be the result of Democratic success in the next election, not only will all who are recognized as Conservative Republicans and non-partisans in the North, but a large Democratic vote will also be driven from the Democratic ticket. This may by some be termed sickly sentimentality and an unnecessary prolonging of the prejudices of the war, but it is nevertheless a fact which has to be taken into the count. There is a fight going on in the Radical ranks. Let that fight continue, for, if we stand united their dissensions will prove of essential advantage to us. The country must be relieved of the men in power. Their extravagances, frauds and corruptions if not soon stopped, will reduce the country to such a condition, that will scarce be worth saving. The honest people long for, and pray for retrenchment and reform, but they will not seek it through the Democratic party, if we are given over to domestic strife.—Nashville Union and American.

Quick Wit.

Sir Thomas Moore was noted for his shrewdness and presence of mind. Sitting one day one the roof of his high gate house at Chelsea, he was enjoying the beauty of the Thames and the sunny richness of the landscape, when his solitude was broken by the arrival of a wandering maniac, who had, unperceived, crept up to the summit of the elevation. The unfortunate creature, casting his eye downward from the parapet to the foot of the tower, suddenly conceived the idea of hurling Sir Thomas from the roof. "We'll immortalize ourselves," shrieked he, grasping the chancellor by the wrist with a grip of iron, "Come we'll leap to the ground and be remembered through all time as the greatest jumpers of the age." "Pooh! pooh!" said Moore cooly, "anybody could jump from here down upon the ground. Let us rather if we wish to leave brave name to posterity go below and jump from the ground to the roof. That will be a feat worth priding ourselves upon." "Agreed?" screamed the delighted maniac, and hurrying together down stairs, Sir Thomas was enabled to summon the servants and have the poor wretch secured.

A Curious Joke.

A physician in the Grand Army Journal tells this ghastly joke: "I remember one day in making my hospital rounds, a patient just arrived presented me an amputated forearm, and in doing so could scarcely refrain from a broad laugh, the titter was constantly on his face. "What is the matter? This does not strike me as a subject of laughter." "It is not, doctor, but excuse me. I lost my arm in so funny a way that I still laugh when I look at it. Our first seargent wanted shaving badly, and got me to do it, as I am corporal. We went together in front of his tent; I had lathered, took him by the nose and was applying the razor when a cannon ball came, and that was the last I saw of either his head or my arm. Excuse me, doctor, for laughing as I do, but I'll be especially blasted if I ever saw such a bully thing."

A Conundrum.

What has become of the chignon?

Ask of the rag men who go their dreary rounds and jangle its dirge with belles all out of tune, as they "shovel them in, shovel them in!"

Surely here is a theme fit to inspire the heart and pen of some enthusiastic poet, who has allowed his heart to be ensnared, alas! too oft, by false alluring curls.

The chignon is happily among the things which are no more, but false eyebrows have come in.

Eyebrows which are so constructed as to bristle with indignation when a lover with an empty purse dares to plead his cause, and yet can droop with pitying air when love, whose coffers are full of gold, breathes forth its plaint at beauty's feet. These wonderful eyebrows are said to possess the merit of hastening proposals.

THE ASHES OF THE FIRST NAPOLEON. An exchange paper says: "It appears that the Hotel des Invalides, in Paris, wherein are deposited the remains of the great Napoleon, had a narrow escape from destruction at the hands of the Communists. Everything was prepared to blow up the hotel, as also the Pantheon, but owing to the hasty manner of their departure from the scene, the Communists who were to have done the work fortunately forgot to light the matches communicating with several barrels of gunpowder and inflammable materials. Thus was it by a mere chance that the ashes of the first Emperor were preserved from oblivion."

VELOCITY OF SOUND.—A locomotive whistle can be heard, under ordinary circumstances, 3,300 yards, or nearly two miles; the noise of a railway train, 2,800 yards; the bark of a dog or the report of a musket, 1,800 yards; the roll of a drum 1,600 yards, and the human voice, 1,000 yards. This is, of course, on the supposition that other sounds do not intervene and confuse the hearing.

Our Journey Through Life.

Some men move through life as a band of music moves down the street, flinging out pleasure on every side through the air, to every one, far and near, who can listen. Some men fill the air with their presence, as an orchard in summer days, fills the air with the perfume of ripe fruit. Some women cling to their own houses like honeysuckle over the door, yet, like it, fill the air with the subtle fragrance of their goodness. How great a bounty and a blessing it is to hold the loyal gifts of the soul that they shall be music to me, fragrance to others and life to all!

It would be no unworthy thing to live for, to make the power which we have within us the breath of other men's joy to fill the atmosphere in which they must stand with a brightness they cannot create for themselves. [Exchange.

A Story Equal to Monte Christo.

Alvinza Hayward is the hero of a story equal to "Monte Christo." He is a Vermonter, who operated with a man named Chamberlaine in a gold mine which was full of indications, but yielded nothing tangible. Chamberlaine at last went away disconsolate, giving Hayward all his interest. The latter worked at the thing for months, and was buried deeper and deeper in the ground, till at last his family were next to starving; all his laborers left him, and he knew of no friend in the world except Chamberlaine.

"My God!" he said to this man, who had meantime been engaged in stock raising, "I am on the verge of this great strike. I know it. Can't you give me a little money?"

Chamberlaine has been on the verge himself several times, and he shook his head sadly. But he had $3,000, his all, buried under a hay stack near by, and he went and dug it up.

"Take it, old fellow," he said, with California heartiness, "do your best!"

With this money Hayward recommenced, and he had worked until it was all spent, and his men were reduced to a bag of beans for nourishment, when to the gloom of hope the precious ore blazed suddenly up; the Amador mine was the richest in the world. When this mine was paying $40,000 a month, Hayward made over to his friend one perfect third of it. Chamberlaine retired upon $1,000,000, and moved east to educate his children, Hayward buying back the whole. Finally, even Hayward grew tired, and he sold out the mine to a stock company, of which Gen. Colton is President. The mine will make $450,000 net this year, and Colton said last week:

"The Amador mine will hold out longer than we will!"—Tribune California Letter.

The Ermine.

It is surprising that the ermine is little valued in Siberia. Mr. Bush, in his work on that country, writes: This day, while sitting cross-legged upon the platform in the court, eating, my attention was attracted by a small white animal, apparently of the weasel family, that darted back and forth beneath a pile of fire wood in one corner of the hut, but its motions were so rapid that I could not catch a good view of it. I at first thought nothing of the animal, but, after it had made its appearance several times, I ventured to ask Vushin what it was. Much to my surprise, if not somewhat to my disappointment, he informed me that the miserable looking little creature, skulking about among old logs and in deserted huts, was the imperial ermine, that, from my earliest recollection, I had associated with kings and thrones.

In conversation with the Starasta, at whose house we stopped, I was much astonished at the little value placed upon ermine by these people. These animals bring so small a price, from traders—about six cents each—that few make any efforts whatever to capture them, and then they trap only a sufficient number to pay their light church taxes. In this manner about fifty skins had accumulated on the hands of the priest, which he was more than willing to dispose of to me for the trifling sum of five roubles.—Baltimore Sun.

STONE MOUNTAIN BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.—We learn that the Second Baptist Church of this city will ... the above Association at its next meeting.

SUITABLE PRESENT.—The congregation of the Third Baptist Church have presented the pastor of that church with a fine suit of clothes. Rev. H. F. Buchanan is a faithful minister, and this testimonial is well merited.

DEKALB BIBLE SOCIETY.—We learn that the DeKalb County Bible Society will have its annual celebration on the fourth Sunday in this month. Rev. Dr. Means delivers an address on that occasion.

A GOOD CITIZEN.—Jim Harris, a colored man, was in the business office of THE CONSTITUTION yesterday morning. Jim stated that he was ninety-four years old, that he has had eight wives, and knows that he is the father of sixty-four children.

RETURNED.—Our friend, Colonel Jack Boyd, has just returned to the city after a business tour of four weeks 'round through the country generally. The Colonel reports business dull, and money scarce.

RESUMED.—Miss Fannie Holmes will resume the exercises of her school, in the basement of Trinity Church, on Monday next. Miss Holmes is a successful and popular teacher. There are few teachers who excel her in imparting instruction to the young.

Mr. Local: There are 100 names enrolled as members in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. They include every banking house in the city, and most of the prominent houses and business men. Of these the Secretary has collected the initiation fee from all but four members. Next meeting will be held at the City Hall Monday night, 21st instant, at 8½ o'clock. M. E. COOPER, Secretary.

THE big auction to-day at T. C. Mayson's No. 2, DeGive's Opera House, will commence at 9 o'clock. In addition to the furniture advertised in the regular sale, there will be sold an elegant full marble-top chamber suit complete. To arrive next week, twenty parlor suits, single and double, in silk brocatelle, plush, windsor, terry, reps and hair cloth, all to be sold at a great sacrifice—extra fine we are informed.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—Parties interested will bear in mind that there will be a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday night. We have taken particular pleasure in calling attention to the meeting from the fact, that to have a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce established in the city has been a hobby, if it may so be called, with this reporter for the past two years. It is gratifying to see that our merchants and business men have taken the matter in hand, and have organized a Chamber of live, energetic men. We doubt not but that the meeting will be well attended.

THE DISTRICT COURT—JUDGE SAMUEL LAWRENCE PRESIDING.—At nine o'clock yesterday morning the Court met, and proceeded to try William Patterson, a negro who was charged with "carrying concealed weapons." William set up as justification that he was only bringing the pistol from somebody to the court house, and claimed that there was no offense against the law as long as the weapon was in transitu; but his Honor, who was solicited to try the case without the aid of the jury, could not see the matter in the light in which William's counsel viewed it, and a verdict of guilty was returned with a promise to pass sentence to-day.

Fanny Hudson, a black wench who seems physically able to earn a living at hard work, had apparently come over to the theory that the hardest way to make a living is to work for it, and as a stepping stone to ... she appropriated a goodly number of silver spoons and forks which properly belonged to William Wilson, Esq. She was arrested near West End, and such proof prepared for the State that Fanny plead guilty and made proffer of a six month's old baby as a circumstance which the attorney for the defense thought ought to shorten the term of imprisonment.

Mrs. Mary Flynn was up under a charge of violating the Sabbath day, and was found guilty. His Honor only fined her $5 and the cost.

The Court then adjourned until 9 o'clock A. M. to-day.

DEATH OF MAJOR D. N. PITTMAN.—Major D. N. Pittman, father of our esteemed fellow-citizen, Judge Daniel Pittman, died at his residence in DeKalb county, at one o'clock yesterday. Major Pittman was born in Columbia county on the 7th of May, 1793, and was therefore in his 78th year at the time of his death. He was one of the early settlers of Gwinnett county, having moved there while the Indians were still in this section, and settled on the Chattahoochee river at Pittman's ferry. He assisted in the removal of the Indians to the West.

Between the years 1830 and 1840 he represented Gwinnett county in both branches of the Legislature with honesty, fidelity and ability for ten years; and filled also the office of Justice of the Inferior Court of that county for many years.

For the past twenty five or thirty years he has been a consistent and leading member of the Baptist church.

He was warm and sincere in his friendships, unswerving in his devotion to principle, and generous in his impulses. During the latter part of his life, although enfeebled by disease, he was constant in his attendance at church. He was a kind husband, an affectionate father, a true friend, a devoted christian and good citizen. His remains will be interred in the cemetery at Stone Mountain to-morrow morning at nine o'clock. We learn that before he died he requested this to be done. To his bereaved family and friends we tender our sympathy. "Behold the upright, and mark the perfect. The end of that man is Peace."

THE STATE VS. JAMES ALEXANDER—PRELIMINARY TRIAL FOR MURDER, ETC.—At an early hour yesterday morning crowds of negroes began to assemble at the City Hall, and by ten o'clock in the morning the large hall on the east side of the building was filled with a crowd, eager to watch the progress of the trial which had been announced to come off at that hour. The galleries were filled, while the crowd at the door began to press in so that it became necessary to station a bailiff at that point, to prevent too great a number from crowding up to the bar. The lawyers, consisting of Messrs. B. H. and A. M. Thrasher, S. S. Fears and G. M. Robinson for the State, and General Gartrell, Messrs. Hill & Candler and Hulsey and Tigner and M. P. Byington for the defense, were on hand, and for some time appeared to be waiting for witnesses.

After some delay his Honor, Justice Johnson, appeared upon the bench, and the trial proceeded by the introduction of Dr. E. J. Roach, who had made a post mortem examination of the body of Hamp Whitehead, colored, whom James Alexander is said to have killed. After Dr. Roach's examination, William Kile, Coroner, Mary Clark, colored, W. Mothershed, a convict, King Clark, colored, Cornelius Jenkins, colored, Mr. I. N. Edens, and Ann McCoy, colored, were examined on the part of the prosecution.

From the evidence of most of them it appears that Hamp Whitehead was convicted in Fulton county about ten days ago of living in adultery with a white woman, and was sentenced by Judge Samuel Lawrence to six months imprisonment, and to work on the "public works" during that time. Most of them testified that on Wednesday the convicts were engaged in the work of building the Fulton county jail as usual, and that a brick kiln was being burned near the stockade; that James Alexander was in immediate charge of the convicts, and that he had some eight or nine of them employed in burning the brick; that deceased was engaged in feeding the furnace, that he complained of the intense heat and claimed that he was utterly unable to perform the work longer, and that upon his refusal to work more, Alexander struck him and pushed him into the fire, that after this, Whitehead was taken into the Stockade and tied down on a platform by means of ropes attached to his arms, legs and neck, and that in this position he was found dead the next morning. Coroner Kile and Mr. Edens testified to the circumstances connected with the inquest only.

After which counsel for the State announced that they would reserve all further evidence for rebuttal. During a part of the examination the crowd would manifest considerable feeling and some appeared as if indignant at the alleged treatment of Whitehead by Alexander, while at other times some adroit question put by General Gartrell, in the cross examination, and the answers of the witness would cause such a burst of laughter that one would scarce have imagined that he was present at a murder trial.

The defense was commenced by the introduction of Mr. B. H. Broomhead, one of the contractors for building the County Jail, who swore that he was about fifteen or twenty paces from where Alexander and Whitehead were on the evening of the difficulty, and that Whitehead had a stick in his hand, and cursed Alexander, telling him if he wanted to fight to come on; that Alexander went up and a scuffle ensued, in which Whitehead was thrown; that Alexander struck him with his fist; that deceased attempted to leave and fell over some window frames, a distance of eight or ten feet on the ground; that two men picked him up by his (Broomhead's) order and carried into the stockade, where he threatened to break out, and that he attempted to beat his head, arms, etc., on the platform; and that his arms were tied to prevent his hurting himself.

The evidence, it will be seen, is very conflicting. The defense claiming that they will show that Alexander had nothing to do with the negro's death, etc.

At a very late hour in the evening, pending the examination of witnesses for the defense, the court adjourned.

DEKALB COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.—The sixth annual celebration of the DeKalb County Sunday School Association was held at Stone Mountain yesterday. The attendance was large. At an early hour the people commenced pouring in from all directions, in vehicles and on horseback. The down passenger train from this city brought three schools from Decatur, one from Kirkwood, and one from Edgewood. The way freight brought up three schools from Lithonia and vicinity. Other schools came in private conveyances. It is estimated that over three thousand persons were present. The place selected for holding the exercises was near the King House, in a beautiful grove, near the site of a new Methodist Church. As the schools moved up toward the stand, the Stone Mountain Brass Band discoursed appropriate music in a fine style. The windy-vidrals composing the band are hard-working mechanics and merchants; they are an honor to the town. We were pleased to see this feature introduced. It added to the interest of the occasion.

The day was cloudy and pleasant.

The exercises were opened with singing, by all the schools, of "Glory to God in the Highest." Rev. W. H. Strickland read the XIX Psalm, and Rev. W. H. Clarke made an impressive prayer.

The reports showed that there were twenty-five schools in the county; 1,950 pupils; 99 male and 92 female teachers; 5,000 volumes in the libraries; $231 contributed and forty-three conversions. Not a single conversion reported from a suspended school. The largest number of conversions was reported from Stone Mountain Sunday School—twenty-five.

The Decatur Presbyterian School was organized in 1831, and has never suspended since, except a few weeks while Sherman's forces occupied the place. During the war when there were no men in the town, a widow lady carried it on. It is one of the best organized and conducted schools in the State.

Lithonia Union Sunday school sang a song well. This school always sings well. The bond of their union is a strong one. Next the schools united in singing "We are coming blessed Savior."

General John B. Gordon, orator of the day, was next introduced, and enchained the audience for three quarters of an hour, in a speech replete with good sense, sound doctrine and christian love. His theme was "Love to fellow men and love to God." He urged all to imitate God in love of all their fellow men, good and bad. He opposed bigotry, and urged an enlarged Catholic spirit upon his hearers. He did not advise a departure from the truth as conceived by any man, but on the contrary, a rigid adherence to it. But he cautioned his audience from requiring all mankind to come to their standard of judgment.

Love to God demanded earnest effort and self-abnegation.

The wind was blowing very forcibly at times, yet the speaker was heard distinctly by all. The sentiments uttered by the speaker were warmly applauded and well received. All the schools sang, "The angels there will teach us," and a recess of one hour and a half for dinner was announced. The crowd dispersed, taking dinner where they pleased among the bushes and under the shade trees.

Upon reassembling after dinner, the schools sang "Marching on." Milton A. Candler introduced the officers elect in a chaste and well-timed speech. The President, Colonel W. L. Goldsmith, responded in his ornate and concise style.

The next order was calling the schools alphabetically. Each school had the option to either sing or speak—the speech not to exceed ten minutes.

Master Crawford Phillips responded in a fine speech for Woodville.

Stone Mountain responded by singing "Away" in a manner which, if not superior, was equal to any done during the day.

Master Charles Hawkins responded from Pine Grove in a speech which was well delivered.

Master J. L. Grenade, from Lithonia Baptist, responded in an excellent effort.

Lithonia Union responded by singing "Ring the Merry Bells" (with imitation of bells) in a manner not to be excelled.

Indian Creek always sings well, and on this occasion sustained her well-earned laurels.

Decatur Baptist, a young and vigorous school responded by singing a song in superior style.

Robert Alston, son of Colonel Robert Alston, from Decatur Methodist, delivered an eloquent speech on General Oglethorpe.

Decatur Presbyterian, the old regular sang a song in their unapproachable style.

Master Lafayette Chupp, of Lithonia, delivered a fine address, when after singing by all the schools, the Association adjourned.

The Association will have four quarterly meetings, in the style of teachers' institutes during the year.

The citizens of Stone Mountain were lavish in their welcome to their guests. Everything that could be done was done to minister to their comfort. The bar rooms were all closed.

James W. Goldsmith, Esq., tendered the use of his hall to the Association, for which that body returned thanks.

The association is indebted to Hon. M. A. Candler for much of its success, and to the kindness and courtesy of conductors Purcell and Reed.

[OFFICIAL.]

PROCEEDINGS OF COUNCIL—Atlanta, August 18, 1871.—Council met. Present Hon. Dennis F. Hammond, Mayor, and a full board of Alderman, except Alderman Fowler.

PETITIONS

Of J. M. Mitchell, a blind man, for a free license to run a gift enterprise. Tabled.

Of Thos. Loyd and N. D'Alvigny for a culvert to be extended fifty feet on Collins street. Referred to street Committee.

Of Charles Brown, asking to be relieved from payment of registry tax on soda water stand on Decatur street. Granted.

Of W. A. Bass, et. al., asking for improvement of Humphries street by working it out, and bridging over two ravines. Referred to Street Committee.

Of J. M. Willis, Cashier of Dollar Savings Bank, asking that the tax on the bank be made on the ad valorem system. Referred to Tax Committee.

Of N. C. Dunn, asking to be empowered to keep crossing and sidewalk clear at Whitehall street. Referred to the Marshal.

Of G. W. Adair et al., asking that street along the line traversed by the street railroad, especially Peters street, be graded and McAdamized. Referred to Street Committee.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Alderman Cassin said that he was not quite ready to report on the subject of Public Schools, and suggested that the Mayor call the Council and the Board of Education together to consult on the subject.

He thought it inadvisable to increase taxation and it would require $75 000 in bonds to pay for the schools. Three lots had been selected.

Alderman Rice favored the building the school houses no matter what it cost, and no matter where the money came from. He moved to accept the title deeds to the two lots purchased, which prevailed.

Alderman Cassin moved that Council authorize Vines Fish to go to Newton county and procure a deed to the school lot purchased in the First Ward, which prevailed.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Street, favorable on petition of T. W. J. Hill et al., for Macadamizing Decatur street from Willingham building to Air-Line Depot, recommending that the Street Committee advertise for bids for macadamizing Decatur and other streets, with the right to reject or receive any of the bids. Adopted.

Street, favorable, on petition of J. M. Calhoun et al. for a right of way through lot of land No. 21 in 14th district of Fulton county, the line to be run under the direction of street committee. Adopted.

Street, favorable, on petition of Dr. J. Thompson et al., for a culvert on Jones street. Adopted.

Street, recommending building of a small sewer or culvert on Hill street, near the residence of John A. Grant, and one on Walker street. Adopted.

SPRING STREET.

The following reports on the extension of Spring street were made:

Street Committee on opening of Spring street through the property of Elisha Robinson report adversely thereto. The committee do not wish to cast any reflection upon the gentlemen who assessed the property, but believe the cost to be greatly in excess of the advantage of the street to the city.

N. A. MCLENDON,
S. W. GRUBB,
C. P. CASSIN.

The undersigned, members of the Street Committee, report favorably on the opening of Spring street believing it to be a matter of public necessity.

F. P. RICE,
W. FINCH.

Alderman Finch moved to adopt minority report. Lost.

On motion the majority report was adopted.

THE KLEAS PROPERTY.

City attorney Newman reported that the city had deeded to Jacob Kleas, in selling the Market House and lot, at corner of Mitchell and Pryor street, three feet and seven inches more front on Mitchell street than they owned. Referred to City Engineer, City Attorney, and ... Finance Committee to settle with Mr. Kleas.

SCHOOL HOUSES.

On motion the Mayor was authorized to sign the contract with Pitts & Cook for building three school houses.

A communication was received inviting the city to send delegates to the National Commercial Convention, to assemble in Baltimore on the 6th of October.

Received, and on motion, Mayor Hammond, W. T. Newman and N. A. McLendon were elected as delegates to represent the city.

THE CALABOOSE.

The Committee on Calaboose report in favor of the purchase of the Leyden lot on Pryor street. Adopted.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

MEDICAL MISTAKES.—It took the faculty almost a thousand years to discover that the best way to cure disease was not to render the patient too weak to contend with it. Within the last twenty years, however, the whole system of medical practice has been changed for the better. In diseases or complaints caused by excessive heat, for instance, the doctors no longer recommend the reduction of the invalid's strength by prostrating medicines. The vast success which has attended the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for debility, has given even the most prejudiced members of the old school an insight into the only true and rational theory of cure. Cantharides, calomel, and overpowering doses of opium, are now among the obsolete nostrums of an other age. The lancet, once as much the legitimate weapon of the physician as the sword is of the soldier, is seldom drawn from its case. The principle of life is no longer drained from veins by the quart, and water-gruel for the strengthless invalid has ceased to be considered an appropriate diet. Vigor is the motto of the rational members of the profession, and they understand, at last, the value of a sterling vegetable tonic. So, also, with the people at large; and without consulting medical men at all, they have adopted the bitters as a household remedy, thereby economising both cash and health.

Note the fact, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only, never in bulk, and that the abortions springing up in various parts of the country, and sometimes offered as substitutes for the great national specific, are all utterly worthless.

WHIP-POOR-WILL.

BY HENRY S. BARNES.

In the shadowy hush of evening
We are gathered 'neath the hill,
Listening to the plaintive murmur
Of some lonely whip-poor-will;
How sadly plaintive comes the echo
Of each sweetly warbled note,
How we listen for the trembling
Coming from his silvery throat.

What pleasant mem'ries ever hover
'Round the fav'rite "Bird of Song,"
As she tells in mournful cadence
Of some great and fearful wrong,
Which she fears might pass unheeded
Should she ever fail to tell,
So she sings on in the twilight,
Clear and startling, "Whip-poor-will."

Tell, O! tell us, Bird of Twilight,
What thine evening carol means,
Why you sing from dusk to midnight
And till the morning light begins;
Has he played the faithless lover?
Left thee for another fair?
Is this why you're singing ever
"Whip-poor-will," so loud and clear?

But no answer will she give us
As she floats off on the breeze,
And we listen to her threat'nings
As they die among the trees:
So we ponder then in silence
As we clamber up the hill,
What can so have roused the vengeance
Of our charming whip-poor-will?

The Vagabond Sage.

An old man of very active physiognomy, answering to the name of Jacob Wilmot, was brought to the Police Court. His clothes looked as though they might have been bought second-hand in his youthful prime, for they suffered more from rubs of the world than the proprietor himself.

"What business?"

"None. I'm a traveler."

"A vagabond, perhaps?"

"You are not far wrong. Travelers and vagabonds are about the same thing. The difference is that the latter travels without money, and the former without brains."

"Where have you traveled?"

"All over the continent."

"For what purpose?"

"Observation."

"What have you observed?"

"A little to commend, much to censure and a great deal to laugh at."

"Humph! what do you commend?"

"A handsome woman who will stay at home; an eloquent preacher who will preach short sermons; a good writer that will not write too much; and a fool that has sense enough to hold his tongue."

"What do you censure?"

"A man that marries a girl for her fine clothing; a youth who studies medicine while he has the use of his hands; and the people who will elect a drunkard to office."

"What do you laugh at?"

"I laugh at a man who expects his position to command that respect which his personal qualifications and qualities do not merit."

He was dismissed.—Herald.

THE BUTTERFLY LOTTA AT BOOTH'S.—The fall and winter season at Booth's Theatre opened last evening. The butterfly Lotta drew a crowded house. At 9 o'clock the line from the box office extended up Twenty-third street as far as Fifth avenue, and many were turned away. The play of the evening was Brougham's dramatization of the "Old Curiosity Shop"—not the most brilliant of that author's dramatic efforts, but serving charmingly to develop the capacities of Lotta. If the talents of a commedienne are to be measured by her power over an audience, Lotta must assuredly be assigned a high place. In pure pathos she is utterly wanting. The tender, loving little Nell of Dickens finds but a poor representative in her. But as the Marchioness she exhibits a degree of power unrivalled. She is simply inimitable in her personation of the roguish, hoydenish sweetheart of Dick swiveller.

GEORGIA MAKING UP.—Colonel DeGraffenried, Governor Bullock's Private Secretary, arrived in this city yesterday, and immediately proceeded to Cloverdale, Dade county, Georgia, to make arrangements with Colonel Nisbett, Receiver, for the immediate running of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad. Colonel DeG. says that Governor Bullock is a personal friend of Stanton, and of the road, and only issued his proclamation, seizing the road after he had entirely satisfied himself by personal investigation on Wall street, that it was utterly impossible for Stanton to raise a dollar in New York. [Chattanooga Times.

☞ A hard-worked female, weary with many cares and cumbered with much serving, came into a neighbor's house in Buffalo: "So much to do! Cooking, washing, sewing and everything else! No rest! Never was! Never will be!" "Oh, yes," said the good woman she addressed; there will be a rest one day for us all—a long rest!" "Not for me! not for me!" was the reply. "Whenever I do die, there will be certain to be a resurrection the very next day! It would be just my luck!"—Index.

☞ The Republican papers out West are indulging in all sorts of jokes about the Democratic "new departure." One of them illustrates the policy by this anecdote of a boy and a woodchuck. The boy was observed watching for a woodchuck to come out of his hole. "Do you suppose you can catch him?" said a passer-by. "Catch him?" said the youth, contemptiously. "I've got to catch him, stranger: we're out of meat." [Exchange.

☞ During the siege of Paris we were told that all the dogs, cats, rats, etc., that the city contained were eaten. In this way poor Tray served his master to some purpose. The faithful animal is now called on again to bear his share of the war's burdens. According to the new lists of taxes every owner of a dog throughout the republic is to pay twenty francs annually toward defraying the German indemnity. The result is, that the dogs have largely been turned adrift by their owners.—Patriot.

DEATH OF DR. D. C. O'KEEFFE.—The Atlanta papers announce that this prominent citizen and eminent physician, died at Gainesville, and was interred with Masonic honors in Atlanta last week. Dr. O'Keeffe was once an esteemed resident of this place, and married in this vicinity, where his death will be much regretted.

☞ Everybody is talking about and wondering at the cheapness of pork and bacon. The latter sold in our market yesterday at 7½a8c. for clear sides. Last year at this time, the price was 18a20c. In 1866 the price was 28a30c. Before the war, in 1858, the price was 10½a11c.—Memphis Avalanche 12th.

☞ Why don't those who talk about the American flag being the emblem of "forgiveness and peace," make it so by practical acts?" It is this looking one way and rowing another, that has prevented a complete return of peace to all parts of this nation.—Age.

☞ An article in the New York Tribune on the campaign, concedes that Pennsylvania is doubtful, and also the contest over the Ohio Legislature. The estimate is endorsed editorially, and is based probably on the news received be the Republican Congressional Committee.

From the Calhoun Times.

☞ Some trouble has occurred in the Atlanta Post Office. There has been a fight. It is said developments will show it to be a disagreeable affair, on the part of one of the principals.

☞ In the next Presidential contest there will be but two parties, Democratic and Republican. No man who desires political and financial reform can hesitate for an instant which to choose.—Press and Herald.

☞ In Brazil the emancipation question is progressing slowly. During the absence of the Emperor and Empress a bill for the emancipation of slaves has passed its second reading in the Chamber of Deputies.—Age.

☞ On the 27th of September the Radical State Convention of Massachusetts will meet in Boston. It is not yet announced whether Federal soldiers will be present on the occasion.—Age.

☞ When a President surrounds political conventions with soldiers in order to exclude from them those citizens who are opposed to his renomination, the liberties of the people are in danger.—New York Sun.

☞ A young lady who has been married six months, says it is all nonsense to talk about love in a cottage. There is more love in a full flour barrel than in all the roses and poses and woodbine that ever grew.

"Southern Books for Southern Schools."

School-Books which are Unsectional, Unpartisan, and Unpolitical.

PREPARED BY THE MOST EMINENT SOUTHERN SCHOLARS, AND

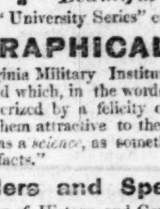

ENTIRELY ACCEPTABLE TO SOUTHERN TEACHERS AND PARENTS

Officially adopted by the Virginia State Board of Education.

AND NOW LARGELY IN USE IN EVERY SOUTHERN STATE.

The University Publishing Co.,

An Association composed of many of the most eminent citizens of the several Southern States, feeling the necessity for a series of School-Books which should be entirely unsectional, unpartisan, and unpolitical, which should present only the facts of history and science—are now issuing a complete series of School and College Text-books by the eminent scholars and educators named below, which are the

Cheapest, Best, and Most Beautiful School-Books

Now published. The "University Series" embraces

MAURY'S GEOGRAPHICAL SERIES,

By Commodore M. F. MAURY, of the Virginia Military Institute. A series of books which mark an era in the study of this science, and which, in the words of a well known and accomplished Southern teacher, "are characterized by a felicity of arrangement and simple freshness of style which must ever render them attractive to the young, and which will be used by all who wish to teach Geography as a science, as something to make pupils think, and not merely as an enumeration of dry facts."

Holmes' Readers and Spellers,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., Professor of History and General Literature in the University of Virginia. A series of Readers unequalled in cheapness, excellence, and typographical beauty. They are steadily progressive in character, bright and fresh in their selections of prose and verse, and illustrative of Southern scenes, incidents, and history.

Venable's Arithmetical Series,

By CHARLES S. VENABLE, LL.D., Professor of Mathematics in the University of Virginia. These books are received everywhere by intelligent teachers with the highest satisfaction, as being most admirably adapted for mental drill, as well as for business education. Their methods, rules, and reasonings are clear, distinct, logical, and comprehensive, and the series is carefully graded throughout.

Holmes' History of the United States,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., of the University of Virginia. It is enough to say of this admirable work, interesting, impartial, and truthful, as well as pure and graceful in style, that it is the only History of the United States which is strictly unpartisan. It comes down to the present date. Also,

De Vere's French Grammar, Readers, etc.,
Gildersleeve's Latin Series,
Carter's Elements of General History,
Holmes' English Grammars,
LeConte's Scientific Series,
Johnston's English Classics,
Duntonian Writing-Books, etc., etc.

Send for our new ILLUSTRATED DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE, which will be mailed free to any teacher or school officer. It tells what teachers think of the books, and contains specimen pages of each.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, May 2, 1870.

We take pleasure in recommending "Norwood School" to the confidence of the public. The Principal, Mr. William D. Cabell, is a gentleman of energy, of great moral worth, and of ripe scholarship.
